Bill:

If you have any information on your aunts + uncles, I would appreciate the data.

This isn't part of the Lesh genealogy, but it should be done.

Your mother gave us this information today.

Tonis Kunders (Dennis Conrad), a blue dyer born ca 1657 in Gladbach, son of Coen Lensen/Coentgen Heckers and Entgen. With Tonis was his wife, Lijntijen 'Elin' Teissen, sister of Reyneir (Tyson) and their three eldest children, Cunread, Mattias and Jan. Anne, Agnes and Henry, the younger children were born in Germantown and were students at the school of Pastorius. Naturalized in 1691, Tonis was one of the eleven to receive the town charter from Penn in 1689; a fence-viewer in 1691; town recorder in 1696 and a juryman in 1704. The first religious meeting of the Friends was held in his home in Germantown. He died in the fall of 1729, his wife preceded him in death.

The Legend of the Thirteen Families in Germantown (from the same publication above)
Usually stress has been laid upon the "thirteen Crefeld families" as founders of Germantown. The ledgend of the thirteen families takes no account of Pastorius, the leader of the community, and the group of perhaps a dozen persons who came with him, all of whom joined in the foundling of Germantown.
The understanding that there were thirteen Crefeld families comes from the fact that on the ship's list of the Concord, on which they came to America, thirteen 'heads of families' were named. But all these 'heads of families' were not married men. Unmarried male adults were set down as 'heads of families.'
From the fact that thirty-three "freights" were registered for the group, it is assumed that there were thirty-three persons in the Crefeld party. However, children under the age of 12 years were counted as a half "freight" and infants less than one year old were not counted at all. So it is certain there were more than thirty-three persons.
The monument which the German-American Alliance erected in Vernon Park, Germantown, with the help of an appropriation from Congress, bears the names of the thirteen "heads of families" from Crefeld, and also that of Pastorius, but no mention is made of the settlers who came with Pastorius and landed on August 20.
One distinction may be made between the two groups of pioneers which perhaps has helped to concentrate the glory of their united achievement upon the heads of the Crefelders. Pastorius and his group had been engaged by the Frankfort land purchasers, and therefore, came to Pennsylvania as employees of those purchasers, usually called the Frankfort Company. The Crefelders, however, came upon their own initiative to found a new settlement. (Source: "250th Anniversary of the Settlement of Germantown"--Germantown Historical Society, PA)

Louis Kunders (Dennis Conrad), a false open son ca 1927 in Dietrich, son of Cleon Lemon Dennison Hopkins and Frances Dawson. Wife was his wife Estelle "Ellie" Teissen, sister of Reuven (Traxon) and their three eldest children, Conrad, Marion and Ian. Agnes and Henry, the younger children were born in Germantown and were students at the school of Princeton. Naturalized in 1691. The Legend of the Fifteen Families in Germantown (from the same publication above) —

Usually, areas that been laid upon the "thirteen Crefeld families" as founders of Germantown. The lodgers of the Frankfort Company failed to account for Pastorius, the leader of the community, and the group of perhaps a dozen persons who came with him, all of whom joined in the founding of Germantown.

The understanding that there were thirteen Crefeld families comes from the fact that on the ships list of the Concord, on which they came to America, thirteen "heads of families" were named. But all these "heads of families" were not married men. Thirteen of such adults were set down as "heads of families."

From the list that does not name "lodgers" were registered for the group. It is assumed that there were eight-three persons in the Crefeld party. However, children under the age of 21 years were counted as a half "lodger" and infants less than one year old were not counted at all. So it is certain there were more than eighty-three persons.

The magistrate which the German-Anglican Alliance erected in Verenie Park, Germantown, with the help of an appropriation from Congress, bears the names of the thirteen "heads of families" from Crefeld, and also that of Pastorius, but no mention is made of the settlers who came with Pastorius and landed on August 20.

One distinction may be made between the two groups of pioneers, which perhaps has helped to consolidate the glory of their united achievement upon the heads of the Crefelders. Pastorius and his group had been engaged by the Frankfort land purchasers, and therefore, came to Pennsylvania as employees of those proprietors, usually called the Frankfort Company. The Crefelders, however, came upon their own initiative to found a new settlement. (Source: "250th Anniversary of the Settlement of Germantown"-Germantown Historical Society, PA)

Notes for JOHN CONARD:
John served in the Virginia Militia in the American Revolutionary War. His military service has been proven for SAR, DAR, etc. His surname has been spelled CONARD, CUNARD, CONRAD, CONNARD, CUNNARD.

From the files of the Virginia State Library--Surname File: Conard, John--soldier-Army. Cert.--Maj. A. Waggoner. Voucher 1785. "I do certify that John Conard entered the service in July 1775 and continued in service till Jan. of 1777 when he reinlisted for the war and was discharged Oct. 1779 being (hampered ?) with fits which rendered him unfit for service, given under my hand this 25th Apr 1785, a copy A. Waggoner, Pft Scthate Maj. M Hunter

Amy Metcalf Bowen wrote a book about he & his descendants, "Descendants of John Conard", 1939. Another book, "As a Conard Family Tree Grows", by Athlyn Luzien, June, 1960, features his ancestors as well. Along with Athlyn, Erik P. Conard helped out with research found in this book. His photo & recognition for his work are in the book.

Notes from Erik P. Conard's files:
John's wife, Elizabeth Potts, had two brothers who were in Morgan's Rifleman, Rev. War.

Child 1: Ann Conard is most likely buried in Champaign, OH. She was in Loudoun Co. in the 1820 census, left sometime after, and a large number of her descendants went to Champaign Co., as well as many Neer kin.

Child 2: Anthony Conard was a stonecutter by trade; he likely served in the Rev. War along with his father (proven). He left Loudoun Co. VA, sometime in the 1820s after the death of his wife and joined brothers Nathan and Joseph, to be followed by brother Jonathan, in Licking Co., OH.
Anthony's marriage is in Wm. Wade Hinshaw's, Quaker series, Vol. VI, 484, and he m. o. u. (married out of union) reported 25 June 1785. His wife is not mentioned by name. She went by "Molly." Frederick L. Klein Jr., Auburn, CA, sent in the list of Anthony's children from the Klein bible entries, obviously copied from an earlier bible. Judy Cooper Hines of Morehead City, NC is a descendant and has done considerable searching--mostly in frustration.
The 1810 census shows Males: 26/46 (Anthony, 45) 16/26 (Jonathan, 23), 10/16 (David), four males 0/10 (Anthony Jr., 10; John, 8; Wesley 4, and Nelson 1. Females: 26/45 (Mary), two 10/16 (Catharine, 15 and Nancy 13), three 0/10 (Amelia, 7 + two others unknown). Married by this time were Elizabeth and Mary.
The 1820 census of Loudoun shows Anthony Sr., over 45, Anthony Jr., and John, and one son 10/16, either Wesley or Nelson, one presumed having died. The only female was 16/26, probaby Amelia, 17.
Erik states that he has been unable to locate Anthony in 1830 in Licking or Knox Co., OH although he was definitely there. His tombstone is clearly marked in the New Utica Cemetery.

Child 3: Sarah Conard

Child 4: John Jr. Conard

Child 5: Jonathan Conard accompanied his mother to Licking Co. There is a disagreement as to his birth date, 15 or 16 March. His tombstone says died 2 July 1845, aged 73 yrs. 3 mos. and 17 days. Calculated: b 16 March. He was living in Washington Twp., 24 Nov. 1812, as on that date he bought a lot for $30 from Mary, wife of Titus S. Haskins. Jonathan was a Veteran of War of 1812, and I have never checked his service record. If he did apply for a pension he might, just might, have mentioned his late wife and her maiden name. She pre-deceased him. If his service record is sought it might well be CONNARD as that was a popular variant then.

Child 6: David Conard was named for his grandfather Potts, he lies in an unmarked grave in the Potts (Edgegrove) Cemetery. He may be buried next to his retarded brother, Samuel.

Child 7: Samuel Conard was an idiot, no secret. May have died away from Loudoun in a nearby asylum. Stone says "S. D. Conard," but middle initial puzzling as it was not the custom to give middle names then. There is, though, a marker in the Potts Graveyard for him. He never married.

Child 8: Nathan Conard was one of the earliest settlers of Licking Co., OH and was one of the first residents of Burlington Twp. in 1807 from old Fairfield Co., now Knox Co. Descendants of Nathan have had yearly get-togethers since 1917. From time to time descendants of his brothers Anthony, Jonathan, Joseph and John have attended. Nathan and his brother Joseph married sister who were their own 2nd cousins. There is a huge posterity. Much has been written about Nathan in the various histories and atlases. He and Joseph bought land in May 1805. Census records, 1820-80 checked. HIll's History of Licking Co. OH, 1881, pp. 638-39. Hinshaw's Quaker Records, VI, 484, where Nathan m. o. u. Hannah Butcher, Nov 1800, disowned 23 Jan 1802. Old Northwest Gen. Quarterly, XII, 50, 306. Evert's Historical Atlas, Licking Co, p 323-38. Amy Metcalf Bowen's "Descendants of John Conard of Loudoun Co., VA" c1939. Nathan was one of the frontier guards during the War of 1812.

Child 9: Elizabeth Conard did not marry John Hess, recent records note, nor did she marry Lewis Klein or James Flanagan. The death date of Aug 1846 may or may not be hers, was claimed by Amy Metcalf Bowen. No further info.

Child 10: Joseph Conard married Elizabeth Williams 21 Feb. 1833. Joseph lived a long life, was very well to do.

Anthony was a stonecutter by trade. He left Loudoun Co. VA sometime in the 1820s after the death of his wife, and joined brothers Nathan and Joseph, to be followed by brother Jonathan, in Licking Co., Ohio. His wife Mary's birth/death dates are based on the 1874 marriage, and the last child being born in 1809. She was alive in the 1810 census, under 45 yrs of age. NO grave for her has been found, nor any records of the KYST family. Surname variations: Kist, Gist, Geist, Kleitz, Klice, Clice.

Child 1: John Conard believed to have died young, as another John b 12 Oct 1801.

Child 2: Jonathan Conard

Child 3: Elizabeth Conard

Child 4: Mary Conard--not known, but looks like as early say 1821 marriage, prob. in VA, then in 1830s to KY, back to IN late 1830s. Daughter Sarah Elizabeth Ethell married cousin Armistead Mason Klein, 1837. Connection made of Conard-Ethell by means of an Ethell descendant who had her birth date but not her maiden name.

Child 5: David Conard left VA and seemed to have lived in Baltimore awhile; a daughter married there in 1849. Census records, beginning 1820, show David Cunnard, Waterford, males 18/26 and 0/10, females, 16/26, 0/10 and 10/16 (possibly wife's sister). The 1830, Waterford, David Conrad, p. 43, males, 30/40; 2-5/10; 3-0/5; females 30/40; 15/20; 10/15; 0/5.
The 1840, males, 40/50; 15/20; 10/15; 5/10; 3-0/5. Females, 40/50; 15/20; 10/15.
1850, Loudoun, David Conrad, 57, Merchant, b VA; Sarah, 54, b VA; Charles, 15, Joseph, 13, Townsend, 10.
1860, David & Sarah living with Fayette & family in Harpers Ferry, Jefferson Co., (W) VA. W. Keith Henry of College Station, TX is a descendant and we are currently working on proving the connections (1996). David left a will in Loudoun Co. but I have not seen it. Henry said he named issue Fayette J., David P., Sarah E. W., Charles E., James M. and Townsend N., all CONRADs. We know Sarah m. James K. Elderkin. There are upwards of 11 children but perhaps several died before their father, as only six are named, according to Mr. Henry--who is not yet convined thei CONRAD family is connected. There is a David Conrad, Leesburg Dist., Loudoun Co., the son of David,

Oakland Cemetery's graves (Iowa City, IA) have been recorded twice since the 1930s; the first time when the Works Progress Administration did a walk-through in the 1930s, and the 2nd was done by the Iowa City Genealogy Society about 1979. Both transcriptions were done incorrectly according to the manager/sexton of the cemetery. John Conard of the 37th Iowa Vol. Infantry is listed once as a Daniel and again as a Carl. The manager/sexton tried to find the stone in May of 2001 by using those written recordings but he was not successful due to those mistakes. Also found in the record book is a G. Conard, 6 month old infant, female, died Dec. 9, 1856. This female may have been another of John's children by his 2nd wife, Jane. I viewed a NARA film #M1845, Roll #4 which listed card records of headstones provided for Deceased Union Civil War Veteranns, who died between ca. 1861-ca.1903. Roll #4 contained: Daniel Conard, Pvt., Co. D, 37th Regiment, Oakland Cemetery, Iowa City, IA. (Since my John Conard is the only Conard in the 37th, and there were no Daniel ConRads either, I guess I'll have to fly to Iowa City to see the darn grave stone myself!)

"Daily Press" Iowa City, February 1, 1876

Mr. John Conard, whose funeral occurred to-day, had been a resident of this county for twenty-two years. He came here from Licking county, Ohio, and at his death was aged 75 years.

In all his residence with us he ranked with the most exemplary of our citizens, not only discharging every civic duty with the most conscientious sense of responsibility, but when war came volunteering his aged energies to help his government. He remained in service with the Iowa Greybeard regiment, until peace, and then returned, much broken in health, to his family.

His latter years were checkered with much physical suffering, the result of disease fastened upon him in the military service, and the government he had served forgot him, in his straitened old age. But he bore up with the greatest serenity to the last, and has passed from pain and trial, to the reward of those who fight the good fight.

Notes for ELEANOR GREGG:
The only known references to Eleanor's death since her gravestone is gone & the Licking Co. courthouse burned in the 1870s are:
Vol XI Oct. 1908 Pg. 302
1) "Old Northwest Quarterly", ~~Vol. XIII, Jan. 1910, page 48~~---An old abandoned cemetery in Licking Co., Ohio had been copied prior to destruction and "Eleanor Connard" listed dying in 1833, age 21. No exact dates or further elaboration.

2) Civil War Pension file # 348346, Jane Conard filed in 1885. The govt. kept rejecting her pension request since she couldn't prove she was married to John Conard. In 1887 & in response, she states: "I was married to said John A. Conard on the 6th day of February 1834 near Homer, Licking Co. Ohio. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wm. Rose, a Congregational minister who is now dead. John A. Conard was at that time a widower with one child, his first wife having died in 1833. I know of no other living witnesses to this fact of her death at that date. I was then unmarried.

Marriage Notes for JOHN CONARD and ELEANOR GREGG:
Marriage Bond: May 2, 1829. The compiler of this informationon VA printed bonds was one Aurelia M. Jewell (Mrs. Walter Towner Jewell)--Page 20. The Chesapeake Book Co. of Berryville, VA published it in 1962. The security for the bond was A. L. Anderson and the witness was a Matilda Jacobs.

The 1830 census for Licking Co., Ohio shows: CONNARD, John, Washington Twp., age 30/40, wife age 20/30, son 0/5. This son would be our George Nelson Conard with wife, Eleanor Gregg-Conard, who settled in Clinton, Iowa. Eleanor died in 1833 & is buried in "The Old Graveyard," Newark, Ohio, listed in "The Old Northwest Genealogical Quarterly", Vol. XI, Oct. 1908, pg. 302.

He married LUCINDA MYERS December 18, 1850 in Knox Co. Ohio, daughter of ISAAC MYERS and HELENA MILLER. She was born June 30, 1833 in Shenandoah Valley, VA, and died December 05, 1910 in Clinton City, Clinton Co., Iowa.

Notes for GEORGE NELSON CONARD:
I am deeply indebted to my Aunt Dona Ione Maltby-Ramsay-Rose, for she was the only one in the family who truly became enthralled in finding genealogy information on our mutual Conard, Maltby, McMahon, Marcellus & Myers lineages. Due to her wonderful efforts of questioning her mother, Gertrude Marcellus-Maltby, back in the early 1980s, as well as her persistant searching through the census records, I have been able to retrieve further documented information based on George Nelson Conard & his wife, Lucinda Myers, & their own lineages. Without her prior work, it would've been so much more difficult & not even near as fun---but because she developed a similar passion for genealogical history on our family, we were able to share our mutual efforts with absolute joy & laughter! Yep, Dona's a gem in the rough...

DEATH CAME SUDDEN
Nelson Conard Expired at His Home Wednesday Morning

The many friends and acquaintances of Nelson Conard were greatly shocked Wednesday when it was announced that death had stricken this estimable man shortly before 8 o'clock in the morning, at his home, 322 Tenth avenue.

Mr. Conard arose Wednesday morning in his apparent good health and was about the house in his usual joval manner. Shortly before 7 o'clock, he went out and cleaned the snow from the walks about his home. After completing this task he returned to his residence whre he expired a few minutes later, death coming without a moment's warning, being due to paralysis of the heart.

Deceased was nearly sixty-four years old and had been a resident of Clinton for over thirty years. He was a carpenter by trade and a man universally respected and esteemed by all. He possessed a kind disposition and was always willing and ready to assist in the comfort of others.

A widow and seven children are left to mourn and loss of a kind and loving husband and indulgent father. The two sons are: J. N. (Should be I.N.--Isaac Newton) and J. W. Conard, Chicago; the five daughters being: Mesdames F. D. Townsend, Bert McMahon and A. C. Jones, Chicago; Geo. Belles and Harry Ray, Clinton. The members of the family residing in Chicago were at once notified and arrived here last night.

The funeral arrangements will be announced today.

NELSON CONARD DEAD
He Expires Very Suddenly this Morning From Heart Disease

Mr. Nelson Conard, an esteemed resident of Clinton, died very suddenly at his home, 322 Tenth avenue, at 7:30 o'clock this morning, the immediate cause of his death being paralysis of the heart.

When Mr. Conard arose this morning he appeared to be in his usual excellent health and spirits. He went out and cleaned the snow from the side walk in front of his residence and returned to the house. A few minute's later he suddenly expired without a moment's warning to his family.

George Nelson Conard's Obituary:

The deceased was a carpenter by trade and came to Clinton over 30 years ago. Had he lived until the 14th of next month he would have been 64 years of age. He was popular and well liked by all who knew him; a man of kindly and affectionate disposition, always thoughful of the comfort of others, and was noted for his thorough unselfishness. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and seven children--two sons and five daughters. The sons are J. N. and J. W. Conard, of Chicago, and the daughters, Mesdames F. D. Townsend, Bert McMahon and A. C. Jones, Chicago; George Belles and Harry Ray, Clinton. All the children living out of town have been sent for and will be in Clinton this evening.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made but will be announced later.

MRS. CONARD DIES
Dies at Residence of Son-in-Law Monday Morning

Following a brief illness of pneumonia, Mrs. G. N. Conard, aged 77 years, mother of Mrs. Harry Ray 755 Sixth avenue and for many years a resident of this city, died Monday morning at 7:55 o'clock, at the Ray residence. She is survived by several children, all of whom, with the exception of Mrs. Ray, reside in Chicago. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the Sixth avenue residence. Mrs. Conard was born in Shenandoah Valley, VA, June 30, 1833. She was married December 18, 1850, and came to Clinton in 1851. For years her husband, now deceased, was employed in a Clinton lumber mill. Of late years she had made her home in Chicago and was visiting here when taken ill.

13. SARAH M.[8] CONARD (GEORGE NELSON[7], JOHN[6], ANTHONY[5], JOHN[4], ANTHONY[3] CUNRED, CUNRAED[2] CUNRAEDS, THONES[1] KUNDERS) was born December 10, 1861 in Lisbon, Linn Co., Iowa, and died December 25, 1939 in Mount Vernon, Iowa. She married ALBERT MCMAHON January 03, 1877 in Clinton, Iowa, son of JOHN MCMAHON and MARY DENNY. He was born September 23, 1854 in Knox Co., Indiana, and died March 20, 1927 in Mount Vernon, Iowa.

McMahon, Burt, head, age 54, 33 yrs. married, born IN, parents born IN McMahon, Sarah, wife, age 49, born IA, parents born VA

Burt & Sarah homesteaded according to the Bureau of Land Management land records. BLM Serial Nr: NDBIS 0005824; Document Nr: 05824; Acession/Serial Nr: 127528
Burt McMahon was issued 160 acres on May 2, 1910. The official land record reads: NW 8/ 136-N 73-W 5th PM ND Logan
I found their daughter Pearl & husband H. Wilson Marcellus, who now went by the name of Arthur W. Marcellus, just a few entries away from them on that 1910 census for Logan Co., which probably means that Burt shared a piece of the land with them for farming. I wonder why Hart Wilson Marcellus changed his name to Arthur when he made the decision to become a farmer. Pearl & family are on pg. 1b. It is still not known exactly when Wilson abandoned Pearl & the three daughters on that piece of land.
This ND connection also explains how the McMahons & Marcellus families met the Maltbys just across the county line in Kidder Co.

Burt still shows as a landowner on a 1916 plat map for Logan County but by 1920 they were found on a census page in Mt Vernon, Linn Co., Iowa, which was Sarah's birth place back in 1861. We can also assume that Pearl as well as her daughters Gertrude & Verna, were in Cedar Rapids prior to 1919 because Gertrude became pregnant out of wedlock in about ~~March~~ Dec of 1918 in that city. She & Verna had been working at the railroad station. Their sister Ruth found her beau back in Logan Co., ND which is where they settled & had two children by that time.

Both Bert & Sarah are buried in Mt Vernon Cemetery, Linn Co., IA. Newspapers were checked in Cedar Rapids & Mt Vernon for obits but none were found. (obit for Bert found later)

It is presumed that Sarah decided to name her son, Willis, after her uncle Willis Daniel Conard, son of John Conard & 2nd wife Jane Willis-Conard, who lived in Iowa City, and who migrated to Oakland, CA by the 1880s. Sarah (Sadie's) brother John was given the name of Willis for his middle name.
Willis McMahon came to CA & lived in Los Gatos, working as an accountant, which is where he died.

June, 2002: I made contact with a descendant of Sarah's sister, Maude Alice Conard & husband, Harry Ray. Mardelle Naylor was the gr. grandaughter who was found in Utah in 2002. Her mother, Shirley Tracy, living in Oregon, actually knew Sarah- "Sadie" from the time when Sadie visited the relatives in Los Angeles, CA. This was a wonderful breakthrough on the lineage since I had the records with a few photographs & Shirley had the actual memories as well as photographs!

She lived at 1333 Jones St. #1203 which is the address given by the informant, Mrs. C.R. Giles (niece)

I remember visiting Van & Olive in abt. 1960, when they were living in a high-rise apt. in San Francisco. Both dressed elegantly & I thought Olive was a princess of some sort, since she spoke so softly and always with a smile, & her manners were so formal to me. I remember she painted her face very carefully & her lipstick was a very bright red color. She actually served the parents tea or coffee using chinese dishes. She made colored popcorn balls as a treat for us kids, which I'm sure the 5, all under the age of 12, ate with a relish, while trashing her carpeting! Bet we came in and went out of their apt. like a tornado.

Children of George & Lucinda all documented.

TASK—to establish George Nelson Conard by a preponderance of evidence to be son of said John & Eleanor Conard.

Background...Conard family, sons of John, RW vet., left Loudoun Co early in 1800s to settle in what is now Licking Co., OH. Included were sons Anthony, Jonathan, Nathan & Joseph, at differing times. Biographies of Nathan and Joseph Corroborate the settlement dates and previous residences. Anthony, Nathan, and Joseph Conard all had sons named John. Jonathan did not. Complete lists of all families obtained. Family had a period where surname was often spelled with Two Ns, although all are single N Conards now...

Census records in Licking County account for all these in Question, and a John Connard, Utica, Washington twp., Licking Co, OH is believed the John, son of Anthony, and

Our subject.
Marriage to Eleanor Gregg, dau of George Gregg and Elizabeth Wilson, in 1829, preceded by marriage, 9 Jan 1821, of Anthony Connard, Jr. to Nancy Gregg, dau of George & Elizabeth (Wilson) Gregg. Anthony & Nancy and family Settled in Utica, Licking Co, OH in 1828, same location As John, brother, who wed Eleanor Gregg.
Evidentiary item—Anthony Conard/Connard, Jr and John Connard/Conard—not a common surname—are to be presumed brothers, married Gregg sisters, both residing In Loudoun Co, VA, and both families moved to Licking CO, OH, 1828-30. Further, 1830 census shows both in Same township, Licking Co, OH
No other Conard/Connard families in county at this time, Except Nathan and Joseph Connard/Conard families, and They were siblings to Anthony Connard, Sr.
Evidentiary item—John Conard, in bible record of Anthony, Sr, listed as born 12 Oct 1801, (presumed) Loudoun Co, Va
1830 census, Licking Co, O—John, age 30/40
1860, John, Iowa City IA, age 68, with wife Jane, 40 and a son David, 19 (Willis David Conard, by second marriage to Jane Willis) Son George Nelson had wed in 1854 and not in this household
1870 census, Iowa City, Johnson Co, IA, John, 68, b VA, wife Jane, 55
Enlistment, Co. D, 37th Iowa Reg't "Graybeards" on 1 Oct 1862, Iowa City, IA gives age as sixty years
Death of an Eleanor Connard, age 21, in 1833, printed in The Old Northwest Genealogical Quarterly, vol. ~~XII~~ VI Oct. 1908 p 302 (~~Jan 1910~~), p 48, lists an abandoned, destroyed cemetery (not named or further identified) as burial place of Eleanor Connard, died 1833, age 21.
Evidentiary item—Jane A. Conard, in her application for Widow's pension, stated that her husband, John A Conard, Had previously been married, had a son, and this wife Had died in 1833. She became the second wife of John A Conard, marrying in Licking Co, OH, 6 Feb 1834 (from her Declarations for Widow's Pension) Licking County, OH court House burned with records in 1870s. Any record of Orphans' Court proceedings would have burned, too.

1830 census, John Connard, Washington twp., Licking Co, OH shows wife age 20/25, son age 0/5. This I propose is Our John, wife Eleanor, son George Nelson.
1850 Census, Nelson Conard, single, in Licking Co.
George Nelson Conard could have been named for his Grandfather George Gregg and an uncle, Nelson Conard, A son of Anthony & Mary Kyst Conard.
FINALLY...it is an opinion only that I am soliciting. Does This information qualify for an acceptance of George Nelson Conard being the son of John Conard & Eleanor Gregg, thereby completing linkage of descendancy from John Conard, 1738-1803, to Anthony Conard, 1765-1840, To John Conard, 1801-1876 to George Nelson Conard, 1830-1894?

Genealogical data relating to Thones Kunders (the Conard family), 1584-1890: one of the original settlers of Germantown, 1683, and a member of Abington Monthly Meeting; from the collections of Charles F. Jenkins, born 1865.

Address of Henry C. Conrad at Dedication of Pastorius' Memorial at Germantown, Pennsylvania, Nov. 10, 1920.

Thones Kunders was one of the thirteen heads of families who sailed in the good ship Concord, July 24, 1683.

He and his wife Elin, sister of William Streepers, landed at Philadelphia in October, 1683. Pastorius, whom we honor today had come to America six weeks before. Pastorius had seen Kunders and his wife in Crefeld, had talked to them, and doubtless, was largely responsible for them coming to America.

Before starting to cross the ocean, Kunders had bought a warrant for 500 acres of land to be located in Pennsylvania.

The Crefeld people were largely weavers, they made "very fine German linen such as no person of quality need be ashamed to wear."

Kunders was a "blue dyer" and carried on that trade after settling in Germantown. He built a house on Germantown Ave., known as No. 4537, the walls of part of the house still being there a few yrs. ago. It at one time was known as Leshers Tavern. Side Lot No. 2, near the Railroad bridge, at Wayne Junction, was also assigned to Kunders.

He served as a recorder of the county, was one of the first burgesses and served frequently as jury man. He was naturalized in 1691, and joined with other friends in the Germantown Colony in a protest against slavery, the first recorded protest against slavery in America.

Proud says "the first religious meeting of the Quakers in Germantown was held in Thones Kunders house in 1683," and further attests that he was an hospitable, well disposed of an inoffensive life and good character.

Kunders had seven children, four sons and three daughters, whose names were, Cunraed, Madtis, John, Ann, Agnes, Henry and Elizabeth. The first three were born in Crefeld, the others at Germantown.

Cunraed is reported to have built the first two story house in Germantown and it is narrated that William Penn was present and partook of the raising dinner.

Ours

Conraed married first Ann Klinken and second Anne Burson—and at his death in 1747, left six children. He spent most of his life in Worcester Twp., Montgomery Co., Pennsylvania. Several of his descendants emigrated to the Shenandoah Valley, Virginia.

Madtis or Matthias, the second son, married Barbara Tyson, daughter of Reinor Tyson—he seems to have spent in and about Germantown, was a farmer and died in 1726. He had seven children.

His descendants largely adopted the name of Conard, and are numerous in Philadelphia, Chester, Bucks, Montgomery and Lancaster Counties, and in New Jersey.

Samuel Conard of the old firm of Cooper and Conard was a descendant, and the Conards of the Conard and Dingee Nurseries, of West Grove, are descendants of Madtis.

John, the third son, married first Alice Luken, daughter of James Luken, and second, Elizabeth Denis. he settled in Upper Dublin Twp., Montgomery County. He had two sons and four daughters, and his descendants are largely in Bucks and the upper part of Montgomery County.

Henry was the fourth son. He married Katherine Streeper, 6th Mo. 28, 1710, in Friends Meeting at Germantown, and within a year bought a tract of land in Whitpain Twp., in Montgomery Co., where he raised a family of seven children, and by thrift and industry, made a competency.

I have copies of his marriage certificate and of the certificate of his transfer from the Abington to the Gwynedd Meetings. On the marriage certificate are the signatures of six of the thirteen heads of families who came over in the Concord, and the certificate is in the hand writing of Pastorius. Henry lived until 1758.

The three daughters of Thones Kunders were Ann, who married Leonard Streepers, Agens who married Samuel Powell, and Elizabeth who married Griffeth Jones.

Thirty years ago, I tried to get together a list of the Descendants of Henry Conrad, the youngest son of Thones. My descent came through him. My research disclosed that Henry, up to thirty years ago, had exceeding 1400 descendants, covering six generations.

Assuming that the other six children of Thones Kunders had descendants, and most of them had, it is fair to assume that in the intervening years from this settlement here in 1683, until the present time, not less than 5,000, possibly 10,000 people, can trace their ancestry to him.

So I feel honored on this occasion to represent, in a feeble way, so respectable a number of those who claim old Thones Kunders, the Crefeld emigrant, as their first American ancestor.

We are rearing a memorial today to Francis Daniel Pastorius, the learned man, the scholar, the directing voice of the Crefeld emigration; the others, Kunders, Opdegraff, Tyson and the rest, were plainer folks. Their lives have gone into various parts of the earth–in Pennsylvania and elsewhere. We find no blur on their escutcheons. Their descendants have lived a marvelous history as statesman, in the halls of legislation, in the learned professions, in the arts and sciences, and in all the duties and activities of American life.

The little band of emigrants from the Rhine were sober, sturdy men and women, devout in religion, honest in heart, industrious in habit. They came to build and not to destroy.

We who are here today to pay tribute to them, at the end of nearly 240 years, can truly attest that they built better than they knew. We honor them because they deserve all honor.

In the boasted civilization of the 20th century, with its stupendous accumulation of wealth and material things—let us not forget that our forbears of generations past were a simpler folk, —who taught a religion, that before the Father, was pure and undefiled and whose home life and business dealings were governed by the Golden Rule.

Their possessions were not large, but for honesty, for fair dealings, for frugality, for industry, they were unexcelled, and because of these sterling qualities we are today, honoring their memory, and our children after us, will, we hope, revere them in the centuries to come.

Dennis Conrad

Dennis Conrad, or Cunrad, as the name was often spelled in early times, was born at Cresheim in Germany, where he was convinced of the principles of Truth, by William Ames, in or about the year 1657. He came among the 1st Germans to Pennsylvania and settled at Germantown, where the first meetings for worship of Friends were held at his house. He was esteemed in religious society, and often employed in its affairs. "He was", says T. Chalkley, "A man of an inoffensive life, much given to hospitality, and left a good report behind him." He lived to a great age, dying about the close of the ninth month, 1729. The meeting, held at the time of his death, was large, many of the early settlers of that part of Pennsylvania attending it.

CAPTAIN THOMAS[5] LAMSON (Peter,[4] John,[3] John,[2] William[1]), was born at North Brookfield, Mass., Dec. 9, 1762, and died at West Randolph, Vt., April 5, 1839. He married Anna Martin, daughter of Gideon and Rachel (Heath) Martin, May 12, 1785, at Randolph, Vt.; she was born at Hampden, Conn., Jan., 1767, and died at Randolph, Vt., April 29, 1849.

Captain Thomas Lamson spent the early part of his life in Brookfield, Mass. He was a private in Col. Denny's Regiment in Claverack, Mass., in 1779, and was discharged the same year. He reenlisted under Ensign Miller in the 6th Massachusetts Regiment of Springfield, Mass., June 30, 1780, and was discharged Dec. 18, 1780. He was present at the execution of Major Andre, the spy, Oct. 2, 1780. He had a pension, No. 20402. The Historic Souvenir of Randolph, Vt., published in 1895 says of him: "He was one of a family of 23 children, whose father married three times. Of this family at least two brothers enlisted from Brookfield, Mass., in the Continental Army and served as Revolutionary soldiers. Thomas was in service six months, from July 1, 1780, to Dec. 1780, and again early in 1781.

Two of the brothers, Samuel and Thomas, came to Vermont in 1785, and Thomas Lamson, the progenitors of the Randolph Lamsons settled in Randolph, Vt., while his brother Samuel went to Windsor, Vt. It is recorded that Thomas Lamson, while journeying to Middlebury, Vt., from Randolph, with an ox-sled, met on the way two men with axes on their shoulders. He move," but they emigrated to Connecticut, so that there was probably some social connection between Ipswich, Cambridge and New Haven in those early days, and the first settlers perhaps radiated out along these lines.

3. THOMAS LAMSON appears for the first time in New Haven, Conn., about 1639, when his name is on a list containing all the "Freemen of the Courts of New Haven." Where he came from originally, or whether he located elsewhere previously, before going to New Haven, is not known.

It seems fair to presume, in view of the above facts, that William, Barnabas and Thomas Lamson might have been the traditional "three emigrant brothers," or at least closely related to each other,—that they came from the County of Essex in England about 1634 or 1635, and that they settled as their fancy or the exigencies of their position demanded, or their religious connections led them, in Ipswich, Cambridge and New Haven, respectively.

A partial list of the descendants of Barnabas Lamson of Cambridge has been published by Mr. Frank B. Lamson, of Buffalo, Minn., 1908, in a Memorial of Elder Ebenezer Lamson, of Concord, Mass. The following pages are devoted to the descendants of William Lamson, of Ipswich, Mass.

INTRODUCTORY

The earliest mention in this country of the name of Lamson,—variously spelled LAMPSON, LAMPSONNE, LAMBSON or LAMSON,—occurs in the vicinity of Boston, Mass., and New Haven, Conn., and the three men who are the ancestors of the vast majority of those who bear that name were:

1. WILLIAM LAMSON, of Ipswich, Mass.
2. BARNABAS LAMSON, of Cambridge, Mass.
3. THOMAS LAMSON, of New Haven, Conn.

1. WILLIAM LAMSON is said to have come over from England about 1634, and first appears on a list of Freemen at Ipswich, May 17, 1637.

2. BARNABAS LAMSON came over from Harwich, England, in the ship Defence on the 10th of August, 1635, in company with Rev. Thomas Shepard. From researches made in England it has been found that in the Ridgewell, Essex Co., Register, 1562-1700, the baptisms of two of his children are recorded, viz.:

"1631, Barnabas Lampsonne filius Barnabe Lampsonne et (——) uxoris ejus baptizatus 22 Novembris.

"1633/4, Martha Lambson daughter of Barnabas Lambson and Marie his wife baptized 13 January."

Barnabas settled at Newtowne, now Cambridge, Mass., arriving there about the time that the Rev. Thomas Hooker left there to settle a large portion of his congregation at Hartford, Conn. In 1636 he received a grant of land on the south side of the Charles River, consisting of six acres, in lots given out by the town; and he was a Selectman of Cambridge in 1636.

In May, 1634, the people of Newtown, meditating removal, "sent men to Agawam (this name was changed to Ipswich in August, 1634), and Merrimack, and gave out that they would JONATHAN[5] LAMSON (Peter,[4] John,[3] John,[2] William[1]), was born at Brookfield, Mass., Feb. 20, 1755, and died at Lorraine, N. Y., Dec. 6, 1807 (G. S.). He married (1) Sally Morton; she died at Lorraine, N. Y.; married (2) Anna Cobb, in 1806. She was born in 1760, and died at Lorraine, N. Y., Sept. 30, 1821, at the age of 61.

Jonathan Lamson lived in North Brookfield, Mass. He enlisted for the Revolutionary war from North Brookfield, for five years, 1777-1782, and after completing a five years service under two enlistments, he received an honorable discharge, which was signed by George Washington's own hand. At the close of the war he located near Rutland, Vt. In 1804 he emigrated to the western part of New York State, driving an ox team and one horse up the Mohawk Valley to Rome, N. Y., and thence on through the wilderness to Lorraine, N. Y., where he finally settled, and died there soon afterwards.

The Twenty-Third Psalm

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil:
for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:
thou anointest my head with oil;
my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life:
and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

lished. The church of Ottery St. Mary, to which this family belonged, stands in the tightly built town, with a thickly populated burying-ground surrounded by a high strong fence, an unusually large impressive church to be only a parish church. Not far distant is the cathedral of Exeter, with its customary twin towers, one topped with a blunt steeple, after which the Ottery St. Mary church was patterned. The fourteenth century clock in the tower has its original works, ringing out the same melodious tones and some of the chime of bells heard by the forebears—some of the bells were stolen by Cromwell's men. The medieval stocks stand beside the gate as one enters the churchyard. The "new" part of the church was built by Lady Dorset about 1520. The entire interior, including the groined vaulted ceiling, is stone, decorated in color. This was all covered with white plaster during the Puritan regime and until 1919, it being expensive to remove. Even now the beautiful colors are dimmed by the plaster.

Edward Martin remained in England, and did not come to America, as has been stated.

Issue, MARTIN:

1. John, bp. East Budleigh, Devonshire, Eng., Apr. 25, 1633, bur. Feb. 20, 1634.

household, testified in the suit of Priscilla Upham versus Paul Nixon, June 15, 1658. He settled in that part of Rehoboth, which in Mar., 1667, the General Court of Plymouth allowed and approved that the township granted unto Captain Thomas Willett and others, his neighbors of Wannamosett and parts adjoining, shall henceforth be called and known by the name of Swansea. Thus he was a founder of Swansea, and the fifteenth signer of an agreement concerning the governing laws of Swansea.

Rev. John Myles came from Wales in 1663, with a band of Baptist followers, many of whom were instrumental in the founding and early life of Swansea, and, although at that time John Martin was not a member of this church, he probably eventually united with it.

Like most of the early New England planters, John Martin had learned a trade, that of weaver, in addition to the tilling and management of his farm. June 5, 1671, the General Court of Plymouth Colony appointed him Constable for Swansea, and on June 3, 1673, he was appointed Surveyor of Highways; and on June 2, 1685, he was again appointed to the latter office, which appear to have been all the public offices he ever filled.

The Bible he willed to his son Melatiah is still in existence; it is a small pocket volume, the title-page of which is lost and the book much damaged by time and use. From the title-page of the New Testament we find the book was printed in London, in 1678. It has remained in the possession of the elder branch of the family, and was owned in 1880 by Mr. Delancey Martin, of Penn Yan, Yates Co., N. Y., but is now encased in glass in The Martin House, Swansea, Mass[98]. There are several lines written on the inside of the cover, and signed by Melatiah Martin, but owing to age and discoloration it cannot be determined whether the writing has become illegible from these causes only, or, as seems probable, whether it was not composed partly of letters and partly of signs, with a view to conceal from all but the writer the information it contained. The "staff" which he willed to his son John, was also owned by Mr. Delancey Martin, but is now in The Martin House; it is a malacca stick, with an ivory head and silver band, on which is engraved the following monogram and date, "MM. 1728."

The "Book Grantham" which he leaves "equally to my children to read in when they please at their own homes," was in the possession of the Martin historian, Henry J. Martin. It is a folio of about six hundred pages; and entitled "Christianismus Primitivus, or the ancient cristian religion &c." This book is a body of divinity according to the views of the general Baptists of the age in which it was published, and contains a labored exposition and defence of their doctrine and practice, "By Thomas Grantham, London, Printed for Francis Smith, at the Sign of the Elephant and Castle, in Cornhill, near the Royal Exchange, 1678." In 1859, it was in a good state of preservation, but in 1869 it was in a very damaged condition from neglect and old age, and it was badly worm eaten. On the margins of the leaves are to be seen several inscriptions, and on the last page of the first book:

"You all my frends desired are to wash your hands or read with care that so it may preserved bee and that may make for you and me."

His will reads:

"In the name of God Amen—this 28th August 1711, John Martin of the town of Swansey in the County of Bristol of the Province of Massachusetts Bay in New England weaver being in & of good sense and soundness & perfect memory praise be to the Almighty God for the same. I knowing the uncertainty of my life and desiring to settle that outward estate which the Lord hath given me

I do here make this my last will and testament in manner and form following, that is to say—First and Principally I do remmit my soul to God Almighty my Creator hoping to receive the full pardon of all my sins and salvation through the alone merits of Christ Jesus my Redeemer who was delivered for my offences and rose again for my justification and my body to be decently buried

As touching that worldly estate the Lord hath given me I will that all my lawful debts be paid

And the rest it is my will to bestow it in manner & form following—I do hereby revoke & renounce & make void all other wills made & declare and appoint this to be my last will and testament

Imps—I do give and bequeath to my beloved wife Joana Martin all that messuage farm or tenement dwelling houses meadows with all priviledges & appurtenances thereunto belonging—and likewise all moveables during her natural life or remaining my widow

I do give unto my son Melatiah Martin all that my forty acres of land that I bought of Samuel Paine & Joseph Brown as by deed doth appear which is in his possession to him his heirs forever, my long table bench & my bible

To my son John Martin twenty acres of land which he hath in his possession and also my spit & staff I do give to my son Ephraim two and twenty acres which is in his possession which I bought of John Martin of Rehoboth as doth appear by deed to him & his heirs forever—Also my Great Gunn I give unto my son Manasseth three score acres of land that I bought of Mr Paine of Bristol as doth by deed appear at a place commonly called Munukeg to him & his heirs forever & do give him my cross cut saw and frowes

I do give to my son Ebeneser Martin all that messuage farms tenement housing lands salt meadow six acres of swamp land barns & all other edifices buildings belonging to me after my wives decease Joana Martin to him his heirs forever

It is my will that Ebeneser pay to his two sisters Joana & Judith five pounds to each of them in money or equivalent to money out of my estate that I have given him, two years after my decease I do give to my son Ebeneser of moveables my Loombs & furniture Also one pair of plow irons the greatest draft chaine, one hoe one ax the crow of iron the Grindstone & the sider mill It is will that the rest of the moveables without doors to be divided between my other four sons Melatiah John Epharim Manaseth and my four daughters that is to say that without doors between them all but that within doors my household stuff only my four daughters to be divided between them four

I do leave James Hill with my wife to dispose of & what undivided land there is in the town with my wife & Ebeneser

I do give my Book Grantham equally to my children to read in when they please at their own homes

This I do declare to be my last will and testament & no other

"The Martin House at Swansea, one of the most interesting old houses in New England, has just been opened for the season with its exhibition of antique furnishings. Owned and maintained by the Society of Colonial Dames, it is a picturesque monument, standing, as it does, in broad meadow land, sturdy in construction, well weathered, yet kindly dealt with by the passing years, it possesses a rare individuality, most appealing to the visitor. From the very moment of arrival in its door-yard the impression is unmistakably conveyed that here, indeed, must have lived generations of honest yeomen, good and useful members of society. Swansea is situated on Route 6, between Fall River and Providence.

The Martin House is a low, frame building, gambrel roofed, with massive, brick central chimney, dormer windows and projecting window frames, with hoods. It faces south, and on this side is forty feet, nine inches in length. On the westerly side, its width is twenty-six feet, nine inches. When originally constructed, the house was probably rectangular in shape, but a wing, now used as a kitchen, has been added on the northeasterly corner—thus leaving thirty-five feet of the old northerly side intact.

The house is shingled, and it is believed that on the northerly side some of the original shingles, of the "split and shave" variety, are still in place, very much weathered, but none-the-less serviceable. The front door is somewhat narrow, stout in construction and quite in keeping with the times, for it must be remembered that the lessons of King Philip's War had not been forgotten by the settlers, and outer doors were still designed with an eye to defense against any sudden attack.

On entering the house, the visitor finds himself in a narrow hall, with doors opening to the right and left into the dining room and parlor respectively. Before him the staircase, purely utilitarian, and clinging closely to the side of the great central chimney, rises sharply, giving access to the floor above. The visitor should not fail to turn and observe the massive iron hinges and lock upon the front door.

The dining room is a cheerful, lowstudded apartment, approximately sixteen feet square. The westerly side of the room is almost wholly occupied by the chimney, with its deep-throated fireplace with brick hearth, flanked by an oven to the right, while on the left is a door opening upon a stairway to the cellar, with an artfully concealed locker at its head, the back formed by the shoulder of the chimney, admirably suited to the storage and concealment of articles of peculiar value.

It is quite probable that in the early days the dining room served also as a kitchen, for the fireplace is not only equipped with an oven of generous proportions, but is also supplied with an array of trammels, and pot hooks, from which hang kettles of iron and copper. Over the mantel one sees the flintlock musket with bayonet still fixed, and powder horn carried by Thomas Martin in the Revolutionary War. On the mantel-shelf stand several candlesticks and whale oil lamps of early design. In the center of the room is a large gateleg table of walnut and a number of Windsor chairs.

It is said that these were imported from England by one of the Martins over two hundred years ago. Probably the most interesting feature of the dining room is the valuable collection of pewter, which is displayed to great advantage on a large Welsh dresser and hanging walnut rack on the easterly wall. There are plates, platters, porringers, flagons, pitchers and tankards of varying size stamped with the seal of George I. A clock of colonial design hangs on the northerly side of the room.

The parlor which occupies the southwesterly corner of the house is seventeen feet, seven inches in length and sixteen feet in width. An interesting architectural detail is a massive cased beam which projects from the ceiling and crosses the room from east to west, practically bisecting it. On the easterly side is a large fireplace, with brick hearth. In this room stands a grandfather's clock, owned by Thomas Martin, who was born in the house in 1759, also an arm chair, belonging to Lieutenant-Governor Simeon Martin. There are, too, a number of old canes, one of which was carried by the first John Martin, a Bible box, where the family Bible was always kept, some excellent pieces of china, the Martin coat of arms, and several samplers, the product of much serious effort on the part of youthful members of the family in times long past.

Opening off the parlor and occupying the northwesterly corner of the house is a small room, eleven feet, nine inches by seven feet, nine inches, which is known as the Museum. Here may be found shelves whereon are displayed numerous pieces of china, glass, pewter, whale oil lamps, and curios, many of them associated at one time or another with the Martin family. Here also may be seen the original deed made in 1715 by John Devanter and Richard Haile to John Martin, conveying the "messuage farm and tennement of sixth-three acres" upon which the house was subsequently erected (1728).

There is an old water pitcher which belonged to Captain Simeon Martin, Jr., once master of the ship George Washington, built at Barneyville, R. I., now part of the town of Swansea, Mass. There is also a stout waincott chair brought from England in 1632 to one Hugh Cole, and legend has it that Metacomet, chief sachem of the Wampanoags, better known to us as King Philip, frequently occupied it. This is not improbable, as, before the outbreak of hostilities in 1675 and his death two years later, Philip was on excellent terms with the English settlers.

Adjoining the museum on the northerly side of the house, and reached also by doors from both the parlor and the dining room, is an apartment called the North parlor, a room sixteen feet, eight inches in length by ten feet, six inches in width. On the southerly side is an ample fireplace, above which, in a shelved and panelled recess, a rare pink luster tea set is displayed. In this room, also, may be seen an ingenious, home-made, invalid couch, with attached table, and a curious combination of settee and cradle.

Abovestairs are two large chambers, each with a comfortable fireplace, one over the dining room, the other over the parlor. These chambers are, respectively, seventeen feet by eleven feet nine inches, and sixteen feet three inches by eleven feet one inch. Opening on these chambers, on the northerly side of the house, are bath rooms. A small room, ten feet six inches in length by eight feet nine inches in width, occupies the northwesterly corner of the building.

In the chambers are to be found pineapple carved beds, with testers and valances, chests, highboys, lowboys, chairs, tables, Staffordshire fire-dogs, family portraits and other articles too numerous to mention.

Before leaving the second floor, the visitor, if architecturally minded, would do well to ascend a short flight of stairs from the upper hall, and peep into the attic, which extends, unpartitioned, over the entire main portion of the house. Some idea can thus be gained of the bulk of the chimney with its six flues, as well as of the frame of the house with its handhewn beams, secured by wooden pegs."
